

SMITH GETS WORST DEFEAT IN HISTORY

COOPER IS CARRIED ON HOOVER WAVE ACROSS OHIO

HERBERT IS GIVEN GREAT STATE VOTE

Cincinnati Polls Enormous Lead Over Martin L. Davey Tuesday.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 7.—With a minor exception, the entire Republican ticket was swept victory yesterday in one of the latest political landslides in history.

Riding on the crest of the wave of President-Elect Herbert Hoover, who polled the greatest majority ever accorded a candidate in Ohio, and Vice President-Elect Charles Curtis.

Text in order came Senator Leon D. Fess, incumbent for U. S. senator, long term, and Theodore Burton, for short term; Myers V. Cooper, for governor.

Although Cooper was trailing national ticket, he was well on way to polling a 150,000 majority over Martin L. Davey, his Democratic opponent.

VICTORY SENSATIONAL
The Republican victory was so complete it was sensational. Victory followed the ticket in to the race for the supreme bench where Frank W. Geier, Republican, won the losing of a close contest with Judge H. Day and Judge Florence E. Allen.

Judge Day is a Republican and Judge Miss Allen is an Independent. She is a Democrat.

The Republican successes were ended to the congressional race where the G. O. P. added seats to their present majority of 16 Ohio seats in the lower house of congress.

The victorious Democrats were: 16th district—Mel G. Underdahl, incumbent; 20th district—A. Mooney, incumbent; 21st—Robert Crosser, incumbent.

Only one congressional race was doubtful. That was in the 16th district and the Republicans were winning victory for C. B. Mclock.

In the eighth district, Grant E. Baker, unseated Congressman, was expected to win the seat of state political leaders.

HOOVER'S BIG LEAD
On the basis of returns coming this morning, Hoover carried of the state's 88 counties and have a majority of between 100,000 and 1,000,000 over Governor Alfred E. Smith.

Harry D. Silver, chairman of Republican state campaign committee, claimed the former secretary of commerce would poll 600,000 plurality.

1924, President Calvin Coolidge polled a plurality of 698,242. John W. Davis, the figure a record and political leaders predicted it would soon be surpassed.

Cooper, on the face of early returns, gained slowly, but suddenly began to report in sections that had almost been conceded away.

Vote Of Pickaway County Given To Hoover

Davis Winner
Frank Davis, sheriff of Pickaway-co, was re-elected to that important office at Tuesday's election for a second term. He is a Republican and defeated Andrew Schwarz, of Williamsport, Democrat.

CHAPPELEAR RE-ELECTED

Distinguished Circleville Citizen Returned To Ohio Senate By Vote.

In this senatorial district composed of Franklin and Pickaway counties, Senator Paul M. Herbert was elected for a second term by a majority of 36,493, with 19 precincts in Franklin-co missing.

Despite the fact that Senator Chappellear lives in Pickaway-co, and that his colleague's home is in Pickaway-co, and despite the fact that he was running for a fifth term, the majority of Senator Chappellear in the district is 34,472.

Dr. William C. Heintz, one of the Democratic candidates, is a practicing physician of S. High-st., Columbus, and has served as a member of the city council and coroner of the county.

Witmer Hite Hoover, the other Democratic candidate, is secretary of a labor organization of railway men in Columbus.

Paul M. Herbert, an attorney of Columbus, one of the successful Republican candidates, has served with distinction one term in the Ohio senate and two terms in the House of Representatives.

He also served as police prosecutor of Columbus and is a successful practitioner at the Franklin-co bar. He has been a leader in the General Assembly from the first and will probably be chosen as president protem of the senate.

Senator Herbert is an overseas veteran of the World war and is active in the American Legion.

With only 19 precincts missing in the county, Senator Herbert's majority in the two counties is 36,493.

Naturally Senator Chappellear regards his splendid vote in the district as a wonderful endorsement, but is gratified most by the vote in his home county, where the people know him best.

The fact that he carried Democratic Pickaway-co by a majority of 1515 over his highest opponent is a splendid tribute, and he feels greatly his obligation to his friends in the opposition party, who crossed over the party wall to give him their help.

CALMNESS PREVAILS AS RADIOS WORK
Calmness reigned in Circleville Tuesday night despite the fact that it was one of the greatest nights of all nights when persons throughout the state and national governments.

Circleville To Boast Hospital Following Vote

Residents of City Pass $75,000 Bond Issue By Two To One Vote.

Circleville stepped into the ranks of the progressive cities Tuesday when the citizens voted for the bond issue that will make possible the building and equipment of a city hospital. This means that before many more months there will be no more explaining to strangers just why the city is unable to care for emergency cases.

With the up-to-date hospital which will be built, Circleville will be provided with what has been a dire necessity for years. The voters, after a great struggle and after several instances where the need of a hospital was stamped definitely on their minds, have voted yes to this great municipal advancement.

In 1914 a similar bond issued for the building of a hospital was voted on and carried. This was contested, however, through the lower courts and even to the supreme court. It was at the time of the world war, however, and the physicians of the town decided that it would be better to wait for a more propitious time, when the city was not so occupied with the thoughts of war.

Since then, hundreds of cases have come up that have kept the hospital question constantly in the minds of the citizens. And he left a will stating that the residue of his estate, after everything was settled, should go toward the erecting of a hospital. The $75,000 bond issue is to be raised by the city for the remaining cost.

Now the hospital is to be financed by a tax levy, and Circleville will no longer be regarded as a second rate town with no hospital facilities.

The votes for the hospital bond issue numbered 2101, and against it 934, more than twice as many for as against it. The greatest majority for it was in the Second Ward, east, where the vote was 268 to 84, and in only two precincts was the vote for the hospital less than twice the number against it.

This is the way the hospital issue was voted: First Ward, North, 222 Yes, and 101 No; First Ward East, 286 Yes and 117 No; Third Ward, South, 227 Yes and 80 No; Second Ward, West, 232 Yes and 133 No; Fourth Ward, South, 205 Yes and 105 No; Third Ward, North, 180 Yes and 88 No; Fourth Ward, North, 262 Yes and 114 No; First Ward, West, 219 Yes and 112 No; Second Ward, East, 265 Yes and 84 No.

MISSING GIRL IS DRESSED AS BOY
CHILLICOTHE, Nov. 7.—Mary Eolen, 16-year-old girl from this city who had been missing from her home since Oct. 20, and believed by her mother to be abducted, was found Sunday on a farm near Gillespieville dressed in the clothes of her brother and with her hair cut like a boy's. She was the daughter of Mrs. Samuel Kerns.

The girl had gone away from the home of her brother, Elliott Eolen, Brownell-st., after she had said that she would leave if her mother learned of a ride she had taken with an elderly man. Later a suitcase containing her clothing was found along the N. & W. railroad tracks, causing her mother to believe that she had been supplied with other apparel by an abductor.

Sunday afternoon, Bryant called Samuel Kerns, the girl's stepfather, and told him that he had been working for him on his farm, a girl, he thought, who was dressed in boy's clothes. He asked that Kerns come down to identify her.

REPUBLICANS ANNEX GAINS DURING VOTE

Frank Davis Re-elected Sheriff By Two To One Vote Over Opponent.

Pickaway-co joined the nation in choosing Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee, to succeed Calvin Coolidge as the head of the United States' government during the next four years.

This normally Democratic county not only showed its preference for a Republican president, but cast a plurality for an Ohio secretary of state, auditor of state, United States senators, a sheriff of the county, and two state senators.

The complete unofficial vote from the 38 precincts in the county for president gave: Hoover, 5796; Smith, 3949.

Clarence Brown, Republican, was preferred over Carl W. Smith, Democrat, by the vote of 4553 to 2457. Joseph Tracy, Republican, received 4566 votes here to the 4320 polled by his Democratic opponent, Daniel Butler.

Simeon D. Fess, native of Yellow Springs, O., senior senator from Ohio and a Republican, was returned to his office by the vote of 4812 over that of 4440, polled by Charles V. Trumbull, Democrat, former member of Governor Donahay's cabinet and appointed to the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Frank B. Willis.

Theodore Burton, a Republican, but also internationally known as an advocate of peace between nations, received 4722 votes in Pickaway-co to the 4083 received by Graham Hunt, Democrat.

DAVIS RE-ELECTED.
Sheriff Frank Davis, a Republican, walked away with his reelection to that office with 6406 votes. His opponent, Andrew Schwarz, a Democrat, received 3389 votes.

C. C. Chappellear, Circleville, and Paul M. Herbert, Columbus, Republican nominees for state senators from this district, each received a plurality of votes in this county. The vote follows: C. C. Chappellear, R., 4143; Paul M. Herbert, R., 4118; William C. Heintz, D., 3881; Witmer Hoover, D., 3747.

HOOVER AND CURTIS WIN OVERWHELMING VICTORY

SCHOOL LEVY IS APPROVED

Salt Creek-twp. District Favors Measure—Defeated In Madison-twp.

The two mills levy for school purposes for the Salt Creek-twp. rural school district was passed by a majority of 11 votes. They were: Yes, 165; No, 144. This levy is not in addition to other levies but is a continuation of a two mill levy voted three years ago. The present levy expires this year. The board of education will use only such part of the two mills as will provide funds for the running expenses of the school. This levy will go into effect in December, 1929.

The one and one half mill levy of the Madison-twp. rural school district was defeated by 23 votes. The votes were: Yes, 91; No, 114. This levy, like the former was not in addition to other levies but was a continuation of a levy voted three years ago.

PETTIT SHOP HAS RADIO IN HERALD

Late hours and early hours were made interesting at The Herald office Tuesday night as the office force awaited the slow returns from the precincts in the county. The delay in the results from the local precincts was occasioned by the exceptionally heavy vote and the entertainment for The Herald force was provided by the Pettit Shop's service The Herald and its visitors was able to follow closely the trend of the election as indicated by the national results.

SERIOUS ILLNESSES REPORTED LOCALLY

Cases of typhoid, scarlet fever and diphtheria were reported to Dr. G. W. Hedger county health commissioner Wednesday.

Oscar Valentine, aged 9, Harrison-twp., is ill of scarlet fever. Gus Warner, nine-year-old son of Otis Warner is ill at his home in Perry-twp. of typhoid fever.

A case of diphtheria was also reported in the family of Scott Cardiff, who lives on the Reeves Hulse farm in Jackson-twp.

ISSUE IS APPROVED

The bond issue for the construction of a new fireproof high school building in New Holland was passed by a plurality of 225 votes. The votes were: Yes, 365; No, 173. The amount of the bond is $60,000.

Precedent Made In County Vote

It is thought that the vote Tuesday established a precedent here, when for the first time in history, Pickaway-co returned a majority of votes for a Republican president. At the same time two Democratic county commissioners were defeated, leaving a full board of Republican county commissioners.

Another interesting fact concerning the election is that Sheriff Frank Davis had a majority of more than 3000 votes, which is the first time that this office was ever won with anything like that ratio.

It was an election in which anyone was apt to win, and even now some of the offices are in doubt.

MRS. HEDGES IS ILLNESS VICTIM

Mrs. Minam Hedges, 61, wife of Edward Hedges, former residents of Pickaway-co, died at her home, E. 12th-ave, Columbus, Tuesday at 8 p. m. of a complication of diseases after two months' illness.

Mrs. Hedges, who was the daughter of Henry C. and Miriam Bowsher Blacker, well known and highly respected early settlers of Pickaway-co, was born in Jackson-twp. Mr. and Mrs. Hedges moved to Columbus from Ashville about 20 years ago.

She is survived by her husband, two sons, Harold and Edgar Hedges and a daughter, Mrs. Hugh Bingham of Sidney, O. Of her immediate family Mrs. Hedges is survived by five sisters: Miss Ella Blacker, Circleville; Mrs. E. W. Templin, Clarksville; Mrs. Perry Brunker, Ashville; Mrs. Edward Dayton, Mt. Vernon, Ill.; and Miss Jeanette Blacker, Columbus, and three brothers, John Blacker, Chillicothe; Harry Blacker, Cleveland; George Blacker, Cincinnati.

Mark T. Sturtevant, 54, formerly of Chillicothe and now of Columbus, died suddenly Tuesday at Charleston, W. Va., where he was on a business trip. MANY ISSUES FACE HOOVER Hard Task Ahead of New President—Cabinet To Be Formed.

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 7.—President-elect Hoover faced the future today, ready to start within a few days laying plans for his administration.

Looking down the vista of the days ahead, he saw vast problems pressing for solution—problems as great as any confronting the country since the close of the war.

He will probably remain here a month, resting and considering his course as president. Then he will probably return to Washington about Dec. 15, taking a trip somewhere before he leaves for the East.

SELECTION OF CABINET
Selection of the cabinet is the first problem before him. He has given some thought to that, and will give more within the next few weeks. As yet, it appears that only secretary of the treasury is a certainty. Andrew W. Mellon, it generally is understood, will be asked to retain the post he has held for nearly eight years.

Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, and Senator Borah of Idaho, are mentioned as possibilities for the highest cabinet post, secretary of state, with prospects favoring the former.

PNEUMONIA FATAL FOR INFANT CHILD

He is survived by his parents and one sister Betty Jane.

Burial will be in the Hitler Ludwig cemetery.

STOCKS GET BOOST

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Following the Hoover landslide, American stocks on the London stock exchange were extremely buoyant in the early dealings today. U. S. steel sold at an equivalent of 64 1-4, while Victor Talking Machine rose to 132 3-4 and International Nickel to 195 1-2. These represent advances over the previous New York close of 1 3-4 points, 6 1-4 points and 4 7-8 points respectively.

TAMMANY BOY BEATEN DOWN IN LANDSLIDE

Hoover Appears Certain To Equal Great Vote Of Harding In 1920.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith, who has drawn greater crowds than Bryan or any other political figure in this country, appears to have gone down to the worst defeat any major presidential candidate ever suffered in the electoral college.

Herbert Hoover appears certain to equal the record-breaking vote of 404 which Harding received in 1920 and is likely to go beyond it. By carrying all of the electoral votes which still remain in doubt Smith could only equal the low vote of 127 which James M. Cox, Democratic candidate, received in 1920.

Yet in face of this disaster, Smith is polling a tremendous vote and while he lost his own state of New York, he is still slightly ahead in doubtful Massachusetts. Stranger yet, he is leading in Utah, one of the two states to stay with Taft in 1912.

RHODE ISLAND TO SMITH
Governor Smith took Rhode Island out of the doubtful column when he carried it by the slender margin of 1493 votes according to unofficial returns, which gave Smith 118,931; Hoover, 117,458.

North Carolina, heretofore considered as certain to be carried by Smith, turned somewhat doubtful last today when Hoover took the lead and held an advantage of approximately 9,000 with counting nearing completion.

Hoover is upsetting all expectations by his terrific vote in the south. He has carried Virginia and is ahead in Florida. In Texas he and Smith have been sawing back and forth for 12 hours.

On the basis of United Press figures from all sections of the country the tabulations today stood as follows:

ELECTORAL VOTE
Electoral vote:
Hoover — 404. Smith — 81.
Popular vote:
Total — 21,919,728. Hoover — 12,447,179. Smith — 9,472,559.
Hoover's majority — 2,974,620.

In only two southern states did Hoover fail to register an impressive vote—South Carolina and Louisiana. He has carried the entire border including Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri and Oklahoma.

His victory in Virginia, and his close race in Florida and Texas surpassed all expectations on the part of his managers. They had hoped to get North Carolina but lost that.

FARM BELT FAILS
While Smith had no victories to his credit in the farm belt, he registered an impressive vote in some states, particularly Illinois. In Nebraska, however, even the help of Senator Norris failed to bring him within hailing distance of Hoover. And in progressive Wisconsin, the combined efforts of the LaFollette forces, failed to protect him against a heavy Hoover vote.

Senator Harkin failed to carry Alabama for Hoover, but held Smith to a fairly close lead.

Pennsylvania, upon which Democratic national Chairman Raskob built high hopes and spent much cash, was running ten to six for Hoover.

TWO KILLED WHEN TRAIN IS DERAILED

CENTRALIA, ILL., Nov. 7.—The "Panama Limited," crack train of the Illinois Central railroad, was derailed here today. The engineer and fireman were killed and several persons were injured.

The dead are Engineer Fred Erskine and Fireman George Lang both of Centralia. The severely injured, Charles Kusang, of Chicago, and Henry Peterson, of Keosauke, Ill. were taken to a hospital here. Erskine and Lang were crushed when their engine turned over.

CURTIS GRATIFIED

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—"I am gratified with the returns," Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas said today in the first public statement he has made since his election to the vice presidency.

1924, President Calvin Coolidge

ly began to report in sections that had almost been conceded Davey.

The Cincinnati like Hoover, led strong majorities in counties heretofore considered rock-

MISSING GIRL IS

CHILLICOTHE, Nov. 7.—Mary
Bolen, 16-year-old girl from this city who had been missing from her home since Oct. 20, and believed by her mother to be abducted, was found Sunday on a farm near Gillespieville dressed in the clothes of her brother and with her hair cut like a boy's. She was the daughter of Mrs. Samuel Kerns.

The girl had gone away from the home of her brother, Elliott Bolen, Brownell-st., after she had said that she would leave if her mother learned of a ride she had taken with an elderly man. Later a suitcase containing her clothing was found along the N. & W. railroad tracks, causing her mother to believe that she had been supplied with other apparel by an abductor.

Sunday afternoon, Bryant called Samuel Kerns, the girl's stepfather, and told him that he had working for him on his farm, a girl, he thought, who was dressed in boy's clothes. He asked that Kerns come down to identify her.

FARM RELIEF BIG MEASURE BEFORE HERB

Pledge of New President of Aid For Agriculture Expected To Be Paid.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Farm relief legislation is expected to be the keynote of the opening of the Hoover administration unless the short session of congress convening Dec. 2, disposes of it in a manner acceptable to both President Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

Tariff revision on farm products as suggested by Senator Curtis, the vice president-elect, is expected to be a big part of the prospective farm program, although a federal farm board and loans of government money also have been emphasized by the Republicans.

As for the McNary-Haugen equalization fee farm relief plan twice passed by congress and killed by Coolidge vetoes, Hoover's election may be regarded as its finishing stroke. Hoover supported and advised President Coolidge in his disapproval of the fee plan.

SAVE EXTRA SESSION

Adoption of a farm program at the short session would save the expense and trouble of summoning the new 71st congress into session March 4, as Hoover has indicated he will do "if necessary." If called, the new con-

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmothers' mustard plaster.

Musterole is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Better than a mustard plaster

Crist Unopposed

Attorney Emmett Crist, of Circleville, Democrat nominee for the office of Pickaway-co prosecuting attorney, was elected Tuesday. He was unopposed.

Crist probably would consider no other subjects.

Otherwise Hoover's election will have little effect on the many pending measures to be considered at the short session along with hundreds of others to be introduced except for strengthening the hand of Republican leaders.

During the campaign Hoover has not specifically discussed other legislative plans. During his seven and one-half years as secretary of commerce, however, he was successful notably in obtaining laws to strengthen the control of his departments over the projects in which he was interested without substantial amendments.

DAM TO FRONT

Boulder dam will be the first subject to come before the senate when it meets next month. It is on the calendar as unfinished business to be considered undisposed of and Senator Hiram Johnson of California, sponsor of the plan for a $125,000,000 high dam for flood control and electric power to be built by the government across the Colorado river at Boulder canyon will fight to obtain final passage at the earliest moment. Hoover's attitude toward the Johnson bill is not definitely known but in an early-campaign speech he advocated "the highest dam that engineers will recommend" across the river.

Other important proposals before the house and senate from the first session which adjourned in June include the Johnson bill for deportation of aliens, the 16 ship naval bill passed by the house and now before the senate and several measures designed to curb speculation in cotton futures and fluctuations in cotton prices.

G. O. P. Congress

The apparent winners, by districts, were:

First district—Nicholas Longworth, Rep. (X).

Second—William E. Hess, Rep. (X).

Third—Roy G. Fitzgerald, Rep. (X).

Fourth—John L. Cable, Rep. (X).

DAM TO FRONT

Boulder dam will be the first subject to come before the senate when it meets next month. It is on the calendar as unfinished business to be considered undisturbed and Senator Hiram Johnson of California, sponsor of the plan for a $125,000,000 high dam for flood control and electric power to be built by the government across the Colorado river at Boulder canyon will fight to obtain final passage at the earliest moment. Hoover's attitude toward the Johnson bill is not definitely known but in an early-campaign speech he advocated "the highest dam that engineers will recommend" across the river.

Other important proposals before the house and senate from the first session which adjourned in June include the Johnson bill for deportation of aliens, the 16 ship naval bill passed by the house and now before the senate and several measures designed to curb speculation in cotton futures and fluctuations in cotton prices.

COLLEGE SONG BRINGS TEARS

School Melody Overcomes Hoover As He Receives News of Victory.

PALTO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 7.—Herbert Hoover looked down from his beautiful home atop San Juan hill today as president elect of the United States. He looked across the campus where he came as a student, orphaned and poor but ambitious, just 37 years ago.

His ambition was crowned with success. Across the vistas of his boyhood dreams he looked today toward the White House, an actuality. Another American epic had reached its triumphant note.

The boy who was born on an Iowa farm, and took in washing to pay for his education here, has been elected president of the U. S. Sharing his happiness today is the woman who shared his college days, who followed him across the seas to far lands and shared his struggles to rise above other men and who now is destined to share those cares he faces as president of the world's greatest Republic.

Herbert Hoover, president elect, seemed to sense all this—his early struggles, the climax of all his labors in the support of millions of his countrymen, the price of power that he must pay in anxiety as bearer of the nation's troubles—in the hour of triumph today.

Looking down upon hundreds of Stanford students and listening to them sing softly "Hail Stanford" Hoover was overcome by his emotion and tears rolled down his cheeks. Silently he turned, and entered the house.

It was a colorful and impressive scene when his Alma mater hailed him, exuberantly as "President-elect Hoover."

They had literally "stormed San Juan Hill." They came to the Hoover home behind John Philip Sousa's band.

Already Hoover had listened to the message of his Democratic opponent, Governor Alfred E. Smith, congratulating him upon his victory.

HOOVER WILL OCCUPY WHITE HOUSE AT WASHINGTON

After a 'spectacular' campaign, the American voters decided that Herbert Hoover should be the next occupant of the White House, succeeding Calvin Coolidge as president of the United States.

ed in the other cabinet positions.

Paramount among all problems which Hoover will face when he enters the White House is farm relief. He has promised to call an extra session of congress to deal with that after March 4, if adequate legislation is not adopted at the coming short session, which does not seem likely.

TO STUDY FARM RELIEF

Hoover will give considerable attention to farm relief within the next few weeks. He intends to go into the whole situation carefully and to have a definite formula worked out to present to congress. He will study the matter with the thoroughness with which he usually tackles problems and perhaps will call upon some of the agricultural leaders for advice and suggestions.

When the new congress faces him in extra session, Hoover is expected to lay before it a general legislative program beyond his farm relief proposals. Some matters in which he has been particularly interested, such as coal and railroad legislation and re-organization of the government departments, still are awaiting action after laying for years on the door step of congress.

Hoover must select in the next few weeks not only his cabinet but various minor officials. Pressure will begin soon, as it does upon every president-elect. He will reveal then the answer to the question which many have been asking:

You never see a modern girl who looks over-dressed—but you can see plenty of them, ranging in ages from 15 to 60, who look over-painted.

DAILY VENTILATION OF HOME ESSENTIAL

Run Up the Shades and Open Wide the Windows for a Few Minutes Daily—Give Your Family Its Full Share of "Sky-Shine" and Sun-Shine

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

TEN minutes good airing of the house after the children have gone to school or office, will get rid of the "dead air" and make the house more comfortable the rest of the day. Few of us get enough fresh air; nobody can have too much.

Ventilation and sun light are essential to health. What are you doing to provide these for your family?

Not every home is so located as to get all the sunshine that we could wish. But few homes are so located as to make it impossible to get "sky-shine."

Scientists have taught us that in light there are certain rays that do more than illuminate our surroundings. These rays have almost magical power in rejuvenating and stimulating the human animal. Exposure to them promotes health. Not to have their action upon our bodies causes us to suffer defects we should not have.

Run up the shades and permit this life-giving light to flood the rooms. Never mind the carpet fades. Its colors are far less important than the physical well-being of your family.

When cold days come there is a temptation to shut out the air. In older times they used to nail the windows shut and tuck rags round them to keep out the cold. Fortunately for us houses are better built now, and the means of heating much improved. But we must not forget the importance of having an abundance of air.

At least a third of our lives we spend in bed. There is no excuse for having that room unventilated. The bed coverings supply the warmth. The air of the chamber should be fresh all night.

Give a little thought today to the house in which you live. The place in which you work, the school where the children go. Good air is just as important as good food, good water, good milk and clean clothing. Certainly it is a cheap cleaner. Perhaps that is the reason we don't prize it. For years I hammered at the Senate, begging the members to make the chamber a healthful one in which to live. It was largely the effect of bad coverings of the Senators in twelve years that made my efforts successful. The plans are drawn and the contract let for a remodeling of that terrible prison-house.

The present Senate chamber is an inside room—entirely cut off from the outside world. No sunshine, no breath of natural air ever reaches it. But now there are to be three great windows along the top of the chamber. Let us hope the country will be able to deserve the effects upon legislation of a healthful place for the lawmakers.

Nobody can be normal if he lives and has his being in an atmosphere lacking in oxygen and natural light. Man was not made for cave-dwelling. This is the reason why living conditions become worse for the average family in a Northern climate. It will not in lessened degree be in increased efficiency to give heed to the ventilation.

ers are seriously engaged in thinking up attractive ways to meet skirts half way in their descent to the ankle. High shoes? Certainly not, but the new models make the ankle and not the instep their objective. Since skirts are rather pointedly tending ankleward, there is every reason, of course, for harmony to be well grounded.

"Higher shoes" offer the new thought in footwear. Specifically, the reference is made to the high riding lines of instep and quarter that are so strong a feature of the moment.

While the idea suggests a possibility that built-up effects are chiefly instrumental in gaining this, the slightly increased height of the line, such is not the case. Delicately strapped styles illustrate the type and achieve the new high cut by making the ankle strap more literally one by placing it nearer the ankle—that is to say, it is definitely moved up from the instep where it has been for so many seasons. It should be pointed out in describing these straps in terms of the ankle, that they are not yet to be thought of as in a position where they compete with the anklets that are more or less familiar worn underneath hose.

A higher cut quarter with a collar banding that continues into ankle straps at the new high line gives a picture of the typical strapped shoe. A version of the strapped walking shoe, advocating as it does the very broad strap over the instep, expresses the raised line in the angle at which the strap over the shaft, as well as the slightly increased height of the quarter.

COOPER IS "COME-BACK"

Cooper will succeed Governor Vic Donahey, next Jan. 14, when Donahey retires voluntarily at the end of his third consecutive term as chief executive.

The election marked a successful "come-back" on the part of Cooper, who two years ago was defeated by Governor Donahey by 17,000 votes.

After the defeat in 1926, Cooper entered the primary fight this year and waged a vigorous campaign.

He won the Republican nomination over Congressman James T. Begg of Sandusky, at the August primary and Begg subsequently campaigned for him.

Cooper will have an almost unanimously Republican legislature behind him, and the aid of Republican officials in every elective state office.

FESS, BURTON LEAD

Although the United States senatorial count has been slow, both Fess and Burton will poll huge majorities, political leaders believe.

On the face of early returns Fess was leading Charles V. Truax by 175,000 and Graham P. Hunt was trailing Burton by 160,000.

First returns indicated Truax ran better in the rural districts than Hunt who is a dry modification.

Behind Judge Day, Judge Allen and Geiger in the judicial race were Frank S. Monnett, Democrat; Dennis F. Dunlavy, Democrat; and A. Talcott, Independent, in the order named.

An enormous vote was cast, as was evidenced by the slowness in which returns were received.

Election officials were swamped by the flood of ballots and gave their first attention to the presidential ticket.

RECORD VOTE CAST

The total vote, Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown believes, will reach 2,800,000, the largest ever cast in the state.

Hoover's most optimistic supporters were willing to concede him a 400,000 plurality but they could not hazard a guess on the majority indicated by present returns.

On the basis of returns, the only county carried by Governor Alfred E. Smith was Mercer.

Beatty Elected

Edgar W. Beatty, Muhlenberg-Twp Farmer, was one of the Successful Candidates for the Office of Pickaway-Co Commissioner. He is a Republican.

Mrs. Henry Hoffman and daughter, Mertie, of Oakland, and Mr. Albert Valentine, took supper with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Conrad Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hampp and daughter called on Mr. and Mrs. Martin Neff and family of Adelphi Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Greeno of Circleville, called on Mrs. Geo. Greeno, who has been on the sick list.

The mask party held at the K. of P. hall last Thursday evening was a grand affair. There were some beautiful false faces there and four different prizes were awarded. Everyone declared they had a good time. The Sisters netted a nice sum.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drake were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kull of Columbus last Sunday. Miss Alice Baird who has been visiting in Bucyrus and Columbus returned home with them Sunday evening.

A play, "The Treasure Hunt," will be given at the Stoutsville school on Nov. 13.

Briton In Shanghai Tried Four Times Before Judge Finally Yielded.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 2.—George H. Brewster, British subject, Great War hero and Shanghai beachcomber, is a man who likes his comfortable cell in the Shanghai jail. George says so himself. He's in jail today and will be there for some time to come, all of which makes him quite contented.

Five times did George essay to break into the local jail and five times did a British judge refuse to send him there because of the man's remarkable war record.

On the occasion of his fourth appearance before the British court George pleaded to be sent to jail. He argued that he was unemployed and hungry; that in prison he had no work to do and get three good meals per day and a place to sleep. The judge shook his head and told George to go and win no more. The next day George armed himself with a number of rocks. On busy Nanking Road he amused himself by hurling rocks through display windows.

George was arrested. He pleaded guilty in court and asked for a jail term. The judge was obliging. Three months for George.

"Thank you, sir," was George's comment.

BULBANE'S BLACK EYE
Johnny Kilbane, one-time featherweight champion of the world, probably is not a great reader of Kipling. But there is little doubt that Mr. Kilbane would agree fervently with Kipling's dictum that the female of the species is more deadly than the male.

Mr. Kilbane had a crony with whom he had been making merry. The crony was a married man whose wife disapproved of revelry. She chided Mr. Kilbane for leading him astray, and Mr. Kilbane leered. So the wife, biding her time, and presently finding Mr. Kilbane in an unguarded mood, she swung one from the shoeboxes (as the sports writers say) and socked Mr. Kilbane lustily in the eye.

The eye was badly blackened, and the man who was once the best fighter of his weight in the world went down for the count. In retaliation he even tried to have the woman arrested, for assault and battery. He failed, and as he doctors his bruised optic, he may find solace in the old refrain of Kipling's:

"The female of the species is more deadly than the male."

BRIEUX ON MARRIAGE
M. Eugene Brioux, the French dramatist, whose play, "Damaged Goods," made such a sensation a few years ago, thinks that people are getting married altogether too young.

To marry before 30, he says, is to court disaster. Such a marriage, he believes, may turn out well, but the chances are all against it.

In marching to the altar one takes one's chances, of course. But who is better fitted to take chances than the young man or woman of 22 or 23? By the time one has passed 30 one's ideals, habits and emotions have crystallized. It is harder to make the concessions and sacrifices that any successful marriage demands. And most important of all, genuine love—the basis of any real marriage—is not apt to wait much longer until one is 30 before making its appearance.

Many marriages nowadays do turn out ill, to be sure; but it is to be doubted if the youth of the brides and grooms are responsible.

MONEY BY AIR MAIL

New testimony to the value of the air mail service comes from the banks, which use the air lines to transfer checks from one city to another.

Figures on the Cleveland-Chicago line are cited. The saving in time gained by sending the checks by air mail instead of by train prevents vast sums of money from lying idle for two days, as was formerly the case, and saves for the banks the interest on those sums. Since the first of April, it has been found that banks using this division of the air mail have saved, on an average, $244 per day because of the air mail.

The air mail is rapidly making itself important in our daily commercial life. It is a safe bet that it will continue to do so in even greater measure.

OUR GREATEST MEN

Ten billion dollars set down to dinner together in New York the other night, and a reverent country gazed its amazement.

The ten billion was represented by nine men—such leaders as Henry Ford, Chris H. K. Curtis, George Eastman, Harvey S. Firestone and Charles M. Schwab. They sat at a banquet, it seems, of regular plates such as the best of us use, handied forks and knives in the normal way, chatted amiably and acted quite as lesser mortals might.

Our country rewards its leaders quite handsomely. Never in history were such huge fortunes amassed. Never before could 10 billion in gold sit at one table in a small room. The power and the glory that were concentrated in that hotel diningroom were of staggering dimensions.

Yet one may wonder how the titles from now. To whom will our grandchildren build statues? How many of the names on the guest list at that dinner will be remembered?

There is no denying that such men have influenced the country profoundly. America, doubtless, would be a different country today if Ford had gone in for stamp collecting instead of automotive experiments back in the '90's. The great advertising business, so big a force in modern life, would be different if Curtis had not lived. These men have put their impress on their generation.

But the men posterity delights to honor are not always the men who can marshal an army of dollars. The man who deals in material things sometimes appears, in retrospect, to have been less influential than had been thought. Mankind, as a whole, is not moved greatly by changes in the outward forms of existence. It exchanges Roman palanquins for automobiles and uses vapor heat in place of smoky fireplaces; but these things do not bring any essential change. Something within remains unmoved by them, waiting for the real leader who can strike the note that will call it into action.

For man, after all, has a spirit as well as a body; a mysterious incalculable presence within that hopes and dreams and struggles and never quite dies, knowing all ways that cities and towns and bank accounts and contests for bread and butter are, in the end, non-essentials. Whenever this force slumbers the world, for all its changes, stands still. When it is appealed to, the world moves.

And the man who, in the long run, is remembered, is the man who can appeal to it. Not the soldier, the banker, the merchant or the builder—but the man with eyes and a voice. When we are shown a distant goal that we had dimly sensed but could never find; when we are roused from our contentment with things as they are, and moved to fight for things as they ought to be—then the race takes a step forward.

A banquet of ten billion dollars is a magnificent spectacle. But it may not have our greatest men as its guests.

"THE WINNER AND NEW CHAMPION"

Broadway Love
by Thomas Edgefow

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

WHEN Fenimore Wilde, famous Broadway actor, dies, his young and pretty daughter, Janet, obtains a job with John Montague, theatrical impresario, while her brother Frank, an idler, goes South. Janet makes friends with Leonard Quigg, a temperamental musician, who loves her, and Dr. David Churchill. When Montague insults her, Janet becomes Dr. Churchill's secretary. He tells her he is in love with her and wants to divorce his wife. So Janet gives up her position and goes to live with Chester Quigg, Leonard's artist-uncle, and his charming little daughter, Alice. She learns how to play the piano. Mrs. Quigg, Chester's mother, and generally makes life pleasant for the Quiggs. Frank Wilde returns home, broke, and introduces Janet to Cora Niles, his sweetheart. John Montague dies and leaves $200,000 to Janet, and a few days later she meets Wynne Stong, English playwright, who becomes interested in her. She goes to falling in love with Leonard. Stong takes Janet to a night club, after having broken an engagement for that evening. Dr. David Churchill's wife, on the grounds of ill health. At the club they meet Amy Churchill, who insults Janet. Little Alice Quigg becomes seriously ill and the doctor advises they call in Dr. Churchill.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XL

JANET never forgot the hours that followed. Hours? They seemed years. There were, so many delays, and each delay meant further stabbing anxiety. Even when Alice was installed in a room in a private hospital nothing was definitely settled for hours. There were consultations among the doctors, and David, for whom they were all waiting, did not appear. Then Janet came face to face with him outside Alice's room. "You?" David exclaimed. "Who is the patient?" Janet drew him aside into another small room which was a kind of pantry.

"We were shut up in a similar type of room the night your father died," David reminded her. "Don't talk of death!" Janet broke in. And then she was in tears, giving way for the first time.

David became gravely professional. "Tell me about it, and please keep calm."

Rapidly Janet sketched her curious status with the Quigg family. She told him of her love for the little girl, who had so completely crept into her heart.

"You must save her! You must, David!" she insisted tearfully. "It isn't as bad an operation as you think," he comforted her. "And I suppose you have had no sleep?"

"Of course not! Who could sleep under those circumstances? And David, the child's father is an artist—and his finances are always chaotic. But I inherited money—I don't like to talk of it, but business is business. I have plenty of money."

"Oh, don't be a fool!" he said, with a sudden flash of anger. "As if I would charge you a cent! And now to see the patient. I will save that child if it's the last thing I do, Janet. So don't worry, my dear."

He went out of the room, closing the door after him, and Janet came another period of waiting.

She waited during the final consultation. This took only a few minutes, but for Janet it was an eternity. Then Leonard came to her.

"It is mastoiditis, and he is going to operate," he told her. "There is a little sitting room we can have while we wait."

Janet followed him there, and then she remembered old Mrs. Quigg.

"I forgot the old lady!" she exclaimed. "Leonard, you simply must go back to Cos Cob and look after her. After all, she's your grandmother."

Leonard made an improper remark concerning his grandmother, but unwillingly he consented to go. Then he smiled.

"Don't worry, Janet! I'll look after the old thing—but please, my dear—don't look so unhappy. You are suffering because of your love for Alice. Perhaps others are suffering from love of you."

He did not guess her anxiety? Then cold reason prompted her to argue that every thought was rightly concentrated on his task. Now she hoped that he had forgotten her. But this waiting was awful!

At twenty-five minutes past six, David himself entered the room. He looked tired, and although he had been careful to remove his operating gown, there was a faint odor of ether and disinfectant about him.

"Very successful!" he announced. "Everything went as well as could be expected, but a very difficult case."

"When you say successful," Janet demanded breathlessly, "you mean she will live?"

"I mean that she has every chance of living—for such a fragile little person," David said gravely. "I cannot say positively that the child will live—though I think so."

Janet looked at him just for a moment, and then she pleaded. "Go home," he ordered. "You can't go near her yet. Go home and sleep. You will return to the studio I suppose?"

"Yes," Janet answered. "But David—now the operation is over, is she left to the other doctors?"

"Usually," he replied. "The surgeon operates and goes away. They call him in if he is needed, but in this case, don't worry! I haven't a thing to do this evening, and I will remain right here if that makes you any happier. I can't do anything, but I'll stay."

"Oh, David—thank you!" Janet began, but now she had to stop to bite back the tears. "It is very good of you. Will you telephone to me and let me know how she goes on?"

On condition that you will go home and rest," he promised her. Feeling that it was impossible to suffer any more, Janet left the hospital and drove home to the studio. She was tired out, but far too nervous to sleep.

David telephoned about eight o'clock. There was nothing to report. Everything was going as satisfactorily as could be expected. "You're going home?" she asked anxiously.

"Don't worry!" he begged her. "I told you I would stay here."

"And you'll keep in touch with me?"

"Yes, I will phone you when there is any news," he promised. "But I shall have another patient on my hands, if you don't rest. Will you try?"

"Yes," Janet promised, but after she had hung up the receiver she still remained within reach of the telephone, the critic at her feet. She sat there dreaming—waiting for news of Alice—but dreaming and building dream-castles—of Leonard!

PATRIOTISM STRESSED
Love of country—that great emotion called patriotism—is the predominating note in William K. Howard's latest directorial venture, "A Ship Comes In," a dramatic De Mille studio production for Pathe which is appearing at the Clifton theatre.

Rudolph Schildkraut portrays the featured title role in the screen story by Julien Josephson. It deals with an immigrant's life in an alien land and the difficulties confronted by one who takes pride in his new country when those around him had no faith in his sincerity.

Providing a fine foil for Schildkraut Louise Dresser is cast in the feature feminine part in this particularly forceful screen story.

The supporting cast are Robert Edeson, Milton Holmes, Louis Natheaux, Fritz Feld and Linda Landi.

DOMESTIC COMEDY
Louise Fazenda and Clyde Cook are starred at the Grand theatre tonight in "Domestic Troubles."

This picture is a rollicking comedy drama of the lives of the meek little men who promise to love, honor and obey, and their better halves who keep their noses to the grindstone. Added features are Fox News and FOX comedy.

KILBANE'S BLACK EYE

Johnny Kilbane, one-time featherweight champion of the world, probably is not a great reader of Kipling. But there it little doubt that Mr. Kilbane would agree fervently with Kipling's dictum that the female of the species is more deadly than the male.

Mr. Kilbane had a crony with whom he had been making merry. The crony was a married man whose wife disapproved of revelry. She chided Mr. Kilbane for leading him astray, and Mr. Kilbane jeered. So the wife bided her time; and presently, finding Mr. Kilbane in an ungarded mood, she swung one from the shoeboxes (as the sports writers say) and socked Mr. Kilbane lustily in the eye.

The eye was badly blackened, and the man who was once the best fighter of his weight in the world went down for the count. In retaliation he even tried to have the woman arrested, for assault and battery. He failed, and as he doctors his bruised optic, he may find solace in the old refrain of Kipling's:

"The female of the species is more deadly than the male."

BRIEUX ON MARRIAGE

M Eugene Brieux, the French dramatist, whose play, "Damaged Goods," made such a sensation a few years ago thinks that people are getting married altogether too young.

To marry before 30, he says, is to court disaster. Such a marriage, he believes, may turn out well, but the chances are all against it.

In marching to the altar one takes one's chances, of course. But who is better fitted to take chances than the young man or woman of 22 or 23? By the time one has passed 30 one's ideas, habits and emotions have crystallized. It is harder to make the concessions and sacrifices that any successful marriage demands. And, most important of all, genuine love—the basis of any real marriage—is not apt to wait meekly until one is 30 before making its appearance.

Many marriages nowadays do turn out ill, to be sure; but it is to be doubted if the youth of the brides and grooms are responsible.

MONEY BY AIR MAIL

New testimony to the value of the air mail service comes from the banks, which use the air lines to transfer checks from one city to another.

Figures on the Cleveland-Chicago line are cited. The saving in time gained by sending the checks by air mail instead of by train prevents vast sums of money from lying idle for two days, as was formerly the case, and saves for the banks the interest on those sums. Since the first of April, it has been found that banks using this division of the air mail have saved, on an average, $244 per day because of the air mail.

The air mail is rapidly making itself important in our daily commercial life. It is a safe bet that it will continue to do so in even greater measure.

OUR GREATEST MEN

Ten billion dollars sat down to dinner together in New York the other night, and a reverent country gasped its amazement.

The ten billion was represented by nine men—such leaders as Henry Ford, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, George Eastman, Harvey S. Firestone and Charles M. Schwab. They sat at a banquet, it seems, at off of regular plates such as the best of its use, handled forks and knives in the normal way, chatted amicably and acted quite as lesser mortals might.

Our country rewards its leaders quite handsomely. Never in history were such huge fortunes amassed. Never before could 10 billion in gold sit at one table in a small room. The power and the glory that were concentrated in that hotel diningroom were of staggering dimensions.

Yet, one may wonder how the thing will look a couple of centuries from now. To whom will our grandchildren build statues? How many of the names on the guest list at that dinner will be remembered?

There is no denying that such men have influenced the country profoundly. America, doubtless, would be a different country today if Ford had gone in for stamp collecting instead of automotive experiments back in the '90's. The great advertising business, so big a force in modern life, would be different if Curtis had not lived. These men have put their impress on their generation.

But the men posterity delights to honor are not always the men who can marshal an army of dollars. The man who deals in material things sometimes appears, in retrospect, to have been less influential than had been thought.

Mankind as a whole is not moved greatly by changes in the outward forms of existence. It exchanges Roman palanquins for automobiles and uses vapor heat in place of smoky fireplaces; but these things do not bring any essential change. Something within remains unmoved by them, waiting for the real leader who can strike the note that will call it into action.

For man, after all, has a spirit as well as a body; a mysterious incalculable presence within that hopes and dreams and struggles and never quite dies, knowing all ways that cities and towns and bank accounts and contests for bread and butter are, in the end, non-essentials. Whenever this force slumbers the world, for all its changes, stands still. When it is appealed to, the world moves.

And the man who, in the long run, is remembered, is the man who can appeal to it. Not the soldier, the banker, the merchant or the builder—but the man with eyes and a voice. When we are shown a distant goal that we had dimly sensed but could never find; when we are roused from our contentment with things as they are, and moved to fight for things as they ought to be—then the race takes a step forward.

A banquet of ten billion dollars is a magnificent spectacle. But it may not have our greatest men as its guests.

Come to think of it, the next President of the United States will not be a lawyer. All but eight of the thirty Presidents have been lawyers, and until Harding the Presidents elected had all been either lawyers or soldiers. In 1920 the opposing candidates, Harding and Cox, were both newspapermen.

Five o'clock, and a nurse entered. "Dr. Churchill sent me to tell you that everything is going well," she announced.

"Will they be much longer?" Janet demanded eagerly. "It has been an hour."

"These operations can't be done in a moment," the nurse conceded to her. "I have known a patient to be in the operating room for over three hours with the same trouble. She is receiving every attention, and you must not forget Dr. Churchill's reputation."

She went out and again Janet was alone with her thoughts. The hands of her wrist watch crawled. Half-past five! Now it was an hour and a half. If only she could have news! But no news came to her.

Six o'clock, and Janet was almost frantic. Why could not David send her word? Could he not guess her anxiety? Then cold reason prompted her to argue that every thought was rightly concentrated on his task. Now she hoped that he had forgotten her. But this waiting was awful!

David telephoned about eight o'clock. There was nothing to report. Everything was going as satisfactorily as could be expected.

"You're going home?" she asked anxiously. "Don't worry!" he begged her. "I told you I would stay here."

"And you'll keep in touch with me?" "Yes, I will phone you when there is any news," he promised. "But I shall have another patient on my hands, if you don't rest. Will you try?"

"Yes," Janet promised, but after she had hung up the receiver she still remained within reach of the telephone, the Critic at her feet. She sat there dreaming—waiting for news of Alice—but dreaming and building dream-castles—of Leonard!

Larger pieces of glass with sharp edges, however, are dangerous.

MERCHANDISE GRIDDERS TO PLAY SUNDAY

Hanley Managed Team Will Meet Highly Touted Team From Columbus.

The Circleville Merchants who have not been heard of for several weeks, are again going into the limelight Sunday, Nov. 11 at Mason's field, when they will battle with the Canine Builders of Columbus. This team has not been defeated this season. The game will be called at 3 p. m.

The visiting team was formerly known as the Stites Builders and was well known in this section of the country.

Gerald Hanley, manager of the Merchants eleven, promises to have a real team for this battle as several of the ball toters of Columbus will be in the lineup. Among them are Smith, Haddon, Anderson and Hampshire.

Circleville players who are lining up for the occasion are Watson, Merriman, Goldsberry, Hunt, Higgin, Haswell, Speakman, Bockard, Parks, McCrady, Wilkinson and Mack.

This promises to be a real game as many of the best ball toters in this section will be on tap for the game.

YES, A GOOD 5c CIGAR AT LAST

It Knocks Out All Previous Ideas You Ever Had

Men, forget the many times you've lit a five-cent, taken a few puffs and thrown it away. Try one more brand: Havana Ribbon. You sure will hold on to this one!

Havana Ribbon is a five-cent cigar in one respect only: Price. By every other standard of comparison, it belongs to a considerably higher-priced class. And the reason is—its ripe tobacco! Many five-cent cigars contain the poorer leaves of the tobacco plant—under-ripe top leaves (usually bitter), or over-ripe bottom leaves (usually flat-tasting). Havana Ribbon contains only choice, fully-ripe, middle leaves. Imagine getting five cents' worth of the fragrant, mellow-mild, fine-flavored goodness of tobacco at its best! You can prove it in two minutes. Just plunk down one jivey at the next cigar counter and ask for Havana Ribbon. Also sold in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

CHEERING FOR A WINNER

DEMPEY STARTING TO REDUCE WEIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 — Jack Dempsey has started training again—not for a fight but to reduce his waistline. When his show, "The Big Fight," closed in New Haven, he weighed 197. Yesterday he weighed 205.

To get some of the surplus flesh off Dempsey worked 10 rounds on the pulleys, the light bags and in shadow boxing, at a downtown gym.

After the workout, Dempsey said: "I'm not coming back. I'm never coming back."

RIFLE CLUB HOLDS SHOOT AT ARMORY

The Circleville Rifle club had a meeting Tuesday night at the Armory and after the business session had a six man team match. The captains were H. M. Crites and George H. Adkins. Crites' team won the match by six points. Adkins was high score man while George Leist, Verna Pontius and H. M. Crites tied for second, and Leslie Pontius, third. The Rifle club will have a meeting every Tuesday night.

CHILLICOTHE WILL BE FOE ON THURSDAY

Circleville High School Has Tough Assignment Ahead Of It This Week.

Thursday afternoon the Circleville Tigers will meet the Chillicothe Orangemen on the local gravel lot. The game has been moved from Friday because of the teachers' conference at Columbus.

This is certainly going to be a tough game for Circleville as the Orangemen came out of the Frankfort game without injuries and are practically assured of the second straight S. C. O. title.

Circleville and Greenfield are the only two weak barriers in the path of the Chillicothe eleven's championship.

Circleville has failed to score against a league opponent this year, having three losses and one tie. The tie was a scoreless game with Hillsboro. Chillicothe defeated the Hillsboro eleven, 49 to 0. That means the C. H. S. Tigers had better start something.

According to the dope bucket, if it doesn't upset, Circleville is slated for a defeat of about 60 to 0. But is the C. H. S. team going to allow the huskies from the camp down the river to run away with them?

Coach Guthrie reported his men were in all in good shape and injuries are few. They have been given some hard workouts the past few days.

Miss Cleona Dunnick visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin M. Dunnick, at Grove City.

WILLIAMSPORT TO MEET TOUGH TEAM

The Williamsport high school gridders play host to Worthington high school, from north of Columbus, at the Williamsport gridiron, Thursday at 3 p. m.

Although the Worthington 11 is heavier than the Williamsport team this promises to be a real game as comparative scores indicate this game will end in a close score if both teams play their usual brand of football.

MOUNTAINEERS WIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 — West Virginia won its sixth straight game yesterday by defeating Fordham, 18 to 0, in the only major college game of the day. The Mountaineers scored in the first two minutes of play when Lewis covered a fumble behind Fordham's goal for a touchdown. Ryan, West Virginia halfback, scored the other two touchdowns on end runs.

A Doctor Talks About Cascara

It is unfortunate that many people judge the thoroughness of a laxative by its violence. The salts that rush through the system may not even penetrate the film of poisonous matter that has coated the colon. A long list of drugs will "loosen the bowels" but what is the best way to CLEANSE them?

The world's best laxative is one that Mother Nature makes in her own laboratory. It is the bark of a tree, called CASCARA. The Indians used to chew this bark—and reach old age without a sick day. It is the best thing there is today, for any system; best for the blood. The most beneficial in its action on the bowels, of anything yet disclosed. For many reasons:

First of all, there is no harm formed from cascara. The bowels are not weakened, but strengthened by its occasional use. Tensions when one needs to grow less and less. Its influence is long-felt. You don't find self worse bound-up the day following. You do find the more inclined to move of the volition. The candy Cascaree every drugstore always has stock is the ideal form of cascara.

CASCARETS
They Work While You Sleep.

SPORTSMATTER

(United Press Sports Editor)

While about 100,000 voters throughout the country today are registering their preference for Al Smith or Herbert Hoover, a million voters of Boston and vicinity also are deciding a question of paramount importance to baseball fans.

"Where will Rogers Hornsby play in 1929?"

It is not a question of who will enter the White House, but of who will be second baseman for the Chicago Cubs.

A deal—the greatest baseball deal in history—from a financial standpoint—which will send "The Babe" from Boston to Chicago is the verdict of the voters of the Bay State.

If Massachusetts gets Sunday baseball by way of the ballot, the Boston Braves can afford to keep Hornsby as playing manager, for the attendance presumably will justify the expense. If the voters reject a proposal for Sunday baseball, Judge Fuchs cannot afford to reject Chicago's offer of Webb, Heathcote, Maguire and $200,000 for Rogers.

LABOR LEADER PAYS TRIBUTE TO NEW REMEDY

Found Quick Relief With Konjola; Had Neuritis So Bad He Could Not Work.

MR. FRANK BENTZ

"What Konjola has done for me I know it will do for others in poor health and that is why I am making this public endorsement," said Mr. Frank Bentz, well known union labor leader, living at 940 Oak-st., Columbus, Ohio.

"Two years ago I developed neuritis in legs and feet and I was so badly afflicted that when I walked I had to hold onto the furniture. I was forced to give up my work and for weeks not able to leave my bed and to go up or down stairs was a physical impossibility. I was beginning to believe that I was hopelessly afflicted.

"Then I heard about Konjola and started the treatment. The results were almost beyond belief. Right away I began to feel better. Gradually the pains subsided and within two weeks I was completely well. I have returned to work and can do whatever I want without suffering the least bit. I can't say too much for Konjola and the wonderful way it helped me. I hope every sufferer hears about my case."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, O., at Mykrantz pharmacy drug store, and by all the leading druggists in every town throughout this entire section.

CUBS OUT TO WIN

Chicago is out to win the National League pennant in 1929, regardless of expense. The St. Louis Cardinals, champions this year, are shot to pieces and must be rebuilt if they are to escape a tumble into the second division. The New York Giants are dangerous, but need pitchers, and a good right handed hitting outfielder. The Cincinnati Reds may not be strong enough to reach the top and stay there, and the Pittsburgh Pirates are apparently going to be no stronger than they have been.

In other words, the door is wide open for the Cubs to drive through to a pennant, if they can get Hornsby. With "The Rajah," Kiki Cuyler, Hack Wilson and other heavy hitters and as good a pitching staff as there is in the league, the Chicago Cubs would look like champions.

The offer for Hornsby has been made, and tentatively accepted. It will not be formally accepted until after today, when the vote on Sunday baseball is made known.

The Boston Braves would be a money-making outfit if they could just play ball at home seven days a week. The odds are that the decision of the voters will be otherwise, however, and that Hornsby will make his third change in as many winters.

HORNSEY THE WANDERER

In 1926, after he had led the St. Louis Cardinals to their first National League pennant and a world's championship, Hornsby was traded to the New York Giants for Frankie Frisch and Jimmy Ring and probably some cash, although none was mentioned.

In 1927, after he had played brilliantly with the Giants for whom he acted as field captain, he was sent to Boston for "Shanty" Hogan and Jimmy Welch, which was no compliment to any ball player of Rogers' ability.

In 1928, after another highly successful season as a player—? Hornsby, the Wanderer of baseball, probably is due to move on again. Every club wants him. No club wants him long. The Cubs will take him to win a pennant, and then send him on his way to keep Joe McCarthy from resigning. Or else they will sack McCarthy and hand over control of the team to Hornsby. It is one thing or the other.

Hornsby has a right to play with Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Philadelphia. The Pirates don't want him; neither do the Reds; while the Robins and Phillies cannot afford any such luxuries.

Rogers may be over in the American League before long.

Men, forget the many times you've lit a five-center, taken a few puffs and thrown it away. Try one more brand: Havana Ribbon. You sure will hold on to this one!

Havana Ribbon is a five-cent cigar in one respect only: Price. By every other standard of comparison, it belongs to a considerably higher-priced class. And the reason is—its ripe tobacco. Many five-cent cigars contain the poorer leaves of the tobacco plant—under-ripe top leaves (usually bitter); or over-ripe bottom leaves (usually flat-tasting). Havana Ribbon contains only choice fully-ripe middle leaves. Imagine getting, for five cents, all the fragrance, mellow-mild, fine-flavored goodness of tobacco at its best! You can prove it in two minutes. Just plunk down one jitney at the next cigar counter and ask for Havana Ribbon. Also sold in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

CHEERING FOR A WINNER

DEMPSEY STARTING TO REDUCE WEIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 — Jack Dempsey has started training again—not for a fight but to reduce his waistline. When his show, "The Big Fight," closed in New Haven, he weighed 197. Yesterday he weighed 205. To get some of the surplus flesh off Dempsey worked 10 rounds on the pulleys, the light bags and in shadow boxing, at a downtown gym. After the workout, Dempsey said: "I'm not coming back. I'm never coming back."

RIFLE CLUB HOLDS SHOOT AT ARMORY

The Rifle club will have a meeting every Tuesday night.

CHILlicothe WILL BE FOE ON THURSDAY

Circleville High School Has Tough Assignment Ahead Of It This Week.

Thursday afternoon the Circleville Tigers will meet the Chillicothe Orangemen on the local gravel lot. The game has been moved from Friday because of the teachers' conference at Columbus. This is certainly going to be a tough game for Circleville as the Orangemen came out of the Frankfort game without injuries and are practically assured of the second straight S. C. O. title.

Circleville and Greenfield are the only two weak barriers in the path of the Chillicothe eleven's championship.

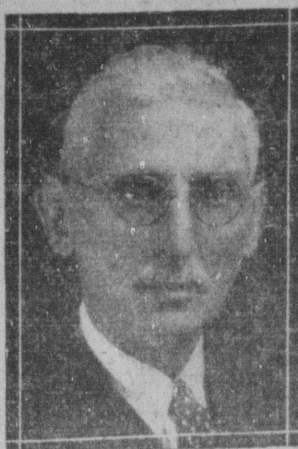

Circleville has failed to score against a league opponent this year, having three losses and one tie. The tie was a scoreless game with Hillsboro. Chillicothe defeated the Hillsboro eleven, 49 to 0. That means the C. H. S. Tigers had better start something.

According to the dope bucket, if it doesn't upset, Circleville is slated for a defeat of about 60 to 0. But is the C. H. S. team going to allow the huskies from the camp down the river to run away with them?

Coach Guthrie reported his men were in all in good shape and injuries are few. They have been given some hard workouts the past few days.

Miss Cleona Dunnick visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin M. Dunnick, at Grove City.

New Treasurer

T. Dell Barr, one of the proprietors of the Barr Bros. store and vice-president of Tarlton bank, was named Pickaway-co treasurer at the election Tuesday. He is a Democrat and was elected without opposition.

WILLIAMSPORT TO MEET TOUGH TEAM

The Williamsport high school gridders play host to Worthington high school, from north of Columbus, at the Williamsport gridiron, Thursday at 3 p. m.

Although the Worthington 11 is heavier than the Williamsport team this promises to be a real game as comparative scores indicate this game will end in a close score if both teams play their usual brand of football.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 — West Virginia won its sixth straight game yesterday by defeating Fordham, 18 to 0, in the only major college game of the day. A Doctor Talks About Cascara

It is unfortunate that many people judge the thoroughness of a laxative by its violence. The salts that rush through the system may not even penetrate the film of poisonous matter that has coated the colon. A long list of drugs will "loosen the bowels" but what is the best way to CLEANSE them?

The world's best laxative is one that Mother Nature makes in her own laboratory. It is the bark of a tree, called CASCARA. The Indians used to chew this bark and reach old age without a sick day. It is the best thing there is today, for any system; best for the blood. The most beneficial in its action on the bowels, of anything yet disclosed. For many reasons:

CASCARETS
They Work While You Sleep!

First of all, there is no harm formed from cascara. The bowels are not weakened, but strengthened by its occasional use. The cascara when one needs it, grows less and less. Its influence is long-felt. You don't find self worse bound-up the day following. You do find the bowels more inclined to move of their own volition. The candy Cascarets every drugstore always has in stock is the ideal form of cascara.

LABOR LEADER PAYS TRIBUTE TO NEW REMEDY

Found Quick Relief With Konjola; Had Neuritis So Bad He Could Not Work.

MR. FRANK BENTZ
"What Konjola has done for me I know it will do for others in poor health and that is why I am making this public endorsement," said Mr. Frank Bentz, well known union labor leader, living at 940 Oak-st, Columbus, Ohio.

"Two years ago I developed neuritis in legs and feet and I was so badly afflicted that when I walked I had to hold onto the furniture. I was forced to give up my work and for weeks not able to leave my bed and to go up or down stairs was a physical impossibility. I was beginning to believe that I was hopelessly afflicted.

"Then I heard about Konjola and started the treatment. The results were almost beyond belief. Right away I began to feel better. Gradually the pains subsided and within two weeks I was completely well. I have returned to work and can do whatever I want without suffering the least bit. I can't say too much for Konjola and the wonderful way it helped me. I hope every sufferer hears about my case."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, O., at Mykrantz pharmacy drug store, and by all the leading druggists in every town throughout this entire section.

THAT people are well sold on the advantages of buying from persistent advertisers.
THAT quality and advertising pull together in an intelligent way.
THAT steady advertising leads to steady business. It keeps old customers.
THAT persistent advertising brings new customers and causes them to come back for more.
THAT business concerns who have the best in quality and service advertise and sell them.
THAT advertising inspires confidence because it offers protection to buyers and profits to sellers.
THAT advertising is a tremendous factor in the building of business. Without its aid no business can succeed.
THAT the right kind of advertising of the right kind of business or service will always bring better business.
THAT advertised lines are in demand; unknown lines are not. Profits are made on sales—not on "shelf warmers."

Fashions

A Checkered Career Is Prescribed for Fashionable Woolens.

By FRANCES PAGET

Copyright, 1928, by Women's Wear Magazine

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—It is impossible to think of fashion without thinking also of wool. Skeptics who saw nothing but disaster for the wool dress have had to admit that in the whirl-a-gig of modern life, there is a time and a place for all material things.

Out of the many indefinite weave patterns which have held sway during the fall season, definite check arrangements are emerging for spring. Tiny, broken checks, with outlines softened by color mixture, assume first place in this new development, but sufficient ranges of definite checks have been styled and sampled by producers to warrant attention. The popularity which will be accorded the first type, that of the indefinite, broken check, is unquestioned, for it is the logical development of the weave pattern, the most favored design type in woolens for fall.

Color is the main factor in this connection, and is handled in such a variety of blending that clear colors and "off shades" have been equally considered. Two clear colors are interwoven to achieve the effect of a combination shade. Clear lemon yellow and green, for instance, are mingled in even thirds in a dress tweed, which tiny check at a short distance suggests a monotone in chartruse. Bright colors are allied with apparently no regard for harmony in some of these versions and yet the finished aspect of the cloth is far from bizarre. Two blues, a brown, a beige, and a seemingly unalloyed shade of red, are woven into a crossbar check, to particularly good effect.

Slated for Throne?

That Prince Amedeo of Savoy (above), eldest son of the Duke and Duchess D'Aosta, will shortly find himself upon the throne of Italy, is the startling suggestion put forward by the newspaper Observateur, which purports to reveal plan of King Victor Emanuel to abdicate upon signing newly projected law making the grand Fascist council a part of the official government.

Bell Ringers

What is said to be the oldest bell-ringing society in existence, the Ancient Society of College Youths, was founded in 1637 and has members throughout the world. Twelve members of this society were recently granted permission to ring on the 12 bells of St. Paul's cathedral (London) a peal of "Stedmen Cinques"—a method of ringing composed by Fabian Steedman of Cambridge, England, about 1610.

HOOVER WIN SEEN AS DRY VICTORY

WESTERVILLE, O., Nov. 7.—Election of Herbert Hoover as president of the United States shows that the people not only want to retain prohibition, but that they want it vigorously enforced at the hands of its friends, said Dr. E. H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, today.

Dr. Cherrington stated that he believed the result of the election would have a tremendous effect on the prohibition movement in other nations. The principles of prohibition which was at stake in the campaign has triumphed gloriously said Dr. Cherrington.

Shows Style

Now that so many girls are allowing their hair to grow again, this style of "bob" is to be seen, in increasing numbers, on Fifth Avenue daily. The lovely New York girl, illustrating the new style, is Myrtle Miller, of 325 West 88th Street. She says, "I am certainly delighted that my hair has gotten so much fluffier and more vigorous. And I am not troubled with dandruff any more. At the time I started letting my hair grow, I began caring for it, the way which is all the rage among New York girls, now; and I attribute its improvement to this method. All I do is put a little Danderine on my brush each time I dress my hair. It makes my hair easy to arrange and holds it in place. It soothes my scalp and keeps it and my hair so clean, I don't need to shampoo more than twice a month, now. All my friends admire the way Danderine makes my hair look so bright and sparkling." Danderine does more to bring out the natural color, the gleam and lustre of your hair, than shampoos or brilliants. It removes all just, grime and oily film from the hair-roots and refreshes the scalp, gets rid of dandruff. All drug stores have the big 35c bottles. A delicately fragrant necessity for the well-groomed girl!

Girls Stronger Than Boys

The vitality of girls is greater than that of boys, Russian statistics show. Another astonishing revelation is that at ages above sixteen there are twice as many women as men. Accidents, booze and war kill off the men.

Fashions

A Checkered Career Is Prescribed for Fashionable Woolens.

By FRANCES PAGET
Copyright, 1928, by Women's Wear Magazine

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—It is impossible to think of fashion without thinking also of wool. Skeptics who saw nothing but disaster for the wool dress have had to admit that in the whirl-a-gig of modern life, there is a time and a place for all material things.

Out of the many indefinite weave patterns which have held sway during the fall season, definite check arrangements are emerging for spring. Tiny, broken checks, with outlines softened by color mixture, assume first place in this new development, but sufficient ranges of definite checks have been styled and sampled by producers to warrant attention. The popularity which will be accorded the first type, that of the indefinite, broken check, is unquestioned, for it is the logical development of the weave pattern, the most favored design type in woolens for fall.

Color is the main factor in this connection, and is handled in such a variety of blending that clear colors and "off shades" have been equally considered. Two clear colors are interwoven to achieve the effect of a combination shade. Clear lemon yellow and green, for instance, are mingled in even threads in a dress tweed, which tiny check at a short distance suggests a monotone in chartruese. Bright colors are allied with apparently no regard for harmony in some of these versions and yet the finished aspect of the cloth is far from bizarre. Two blues, a brown, a beige, and a seemingly unalloyed shade of red, are woven into a crossbar check, to particularly good effect.

Maimed by Explosive

Hudson Maxim narrowly escaped death many times, and his left hand was blown off during his experiments with maxinite. In spite of his bent toward invention of war materials, Hudson Maxim was an advocate of arbitration.

High East Indian Title

Savab is the title of a Mohamadan chief, whether a ruling prince or a title of honor, and is equivalent to both rajah and maharajah.

Where California Leads

The state of California far exceeds all other states in recreation visitors, including campers, picnickers, transient tourists, hotel and resort guests and those taking apartments on short leases or boarding.

Slated for Throne?

That Prince Amedeo of Savoy (above), eldest son of the Duke and Duchess D'Aosta, will shortly find himself upon the throne of Italy, is the startling suggestion put forward by the newspaper Observateur, which purports to reveal plan of King Victor Emanuel to abdicate upon signing newly projected law making the grand fascist council a part of the official government.

Bell Ringers

What is said to be the oldest bell-ringing society in existence, the Ancient Society of College Youths, was founded in 1637 and has members throughout the world. Twelve members of this society were recently granted permission to ring on the 12 bells of St. Paul's cathedral (London) a peal of "Stedmen Cinques"—a method of ringing composed by Fabian Stedman of Cambridge, England, about 1649.

HOOVER WIN SEEN AS DRY VICTORY

WESTERVILLE, O., Nov. 7.—Election of Herbert Hoover as president of the United States shows that the people not only want to retain prohibition, but that they want it vigorously enforced at the hands of its friends, said Dr. E. H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, today.

Dr. Cherrington stated that he believed the result of the election would have a tremendous effect on the prohibition movement in other nations. The principles of prohibition which was at stake in the campaign has triumphed gloriously said Dr. Cherrington.

Shows Style

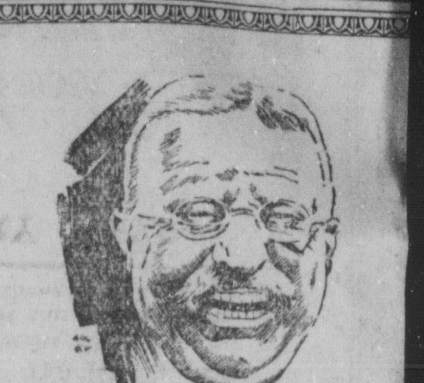

Now that so many girls are allowing their hair to grow again, this style of "bob" is to be seen, in increasing numbers, on Fifth Avenue daily! The lovely New York girl, illustrating the new style, is Myrtle Miller, of 325 West 89th Street.

She says, "I am certainly delighted that my hair has gotten so much fluffier and more vigorous. And I am not troubled with dandruff any more. At the time I started letting my hair grow, I began caring for it, the way which is all the rage among New York girls, now; and I attribute its improvement to this method. All I do is put a little Danderine on my brush each time I dress my hair. It makes my hair easy to arrange and holds it in place. It soothes my scalp and keeps it and my hair so clean, I don't need to shampoo more than twice a month, now. All my friends admire the way Danderine makes my hair look so bright and sparkling."

Danderine does more to bring out the natural color, the gleam and lustre of your hair, than shampoos or brilliantine. It removes all dust, grime and oily film from the hair—tones and refreshes the scalp, gets rid of dandruff. All drug stores have the big 35c bottles. A delicately fragrant necessity for the well-groomed girl!

Girls Stronger Than Boys

The vitality of girls is greater than that of boys, Russian statistics show. Another astonishing fact revealed is that at ages above sixty there are twice as many women as men. Accidents, booze and war kill off the men.
